MAISHAA

Clarke and Clarke's newest offering includes the Cipriani collection of fabrics which features textured weaves combined with marled and contrast coloured yarn. These are available in plain and semi-plain variations as well as stunning geometric patterns, with designs in eight colour groups. The colour palette includes a combination of muted and neutral shades. The Fiji Fabric collection, the brand's second introduction offers contemporary more patterned fabrics, suitable for curtains, Roman blinds and upholstery. Here, a mix of linen, viscose and nylon yarns creates a rich soft drape while iridescent colours add a touch of shimmer.

IOTA

The Eclipse bed is the latest from Isbir Bedding, which specialises in high-end mattresses and technologically advanced sleep systems. Designed in the shape of an ellipse, this bed set is a great amalgamation of design and technology, it offers the comfort of a traditional bed as well as entertainment with a unique integrated lighting and music system and a provision to mount a flat screen television. Available in dimensions of 180cm x 200cm, the bed comes in a single base design and with adjustable reclining angles that can be controlled with a remote. It can also be furnished with leather, a recommended choice of upholstery.

FANUSTA

This home decor brand presents an exclusive range of Pichwai — a traditional art which depicts stories from the life of lord Krishna — paintings by craftsmen from Udaipur, Rajasthan. The intricate artwork featured here is a watercolour on cotton canvas that depicts Krishna as Shrinathji, an anthropomorphic form manifested as a seven-year-old child. Also on offer is a range of cushions by Jaipur artisans with embroidery in the suzani technique of Kashmir, red Ajrakh (block printing) and traditional katha work. The materials used include cotton, wool and canvas. The cushions are priced between ₹ 650 and ₹ 1,000.

PEPPERFRY

Pepperfry presents a beautiful ethnic furniture line by Mudramark, which takes inspiration from the famed bazaars of the popular Pushkar fair in Rajasthan. Influenced by traditional Indian art and literature, this range features kaleidoscope patterns and vibrant colour palettes. It includes the Aranya Trunk (featured here), crafted from sheesham wood in a natural finish; and Valgelika, a multi-coloured painted trunk, and the Bhargava end/ coffee table, which are both made from mango wood. These pieces of furniture are the perfect way to add an Indian element to a contemporary home.
